

FINDING A DENTAL HOME FOR YOUR CHILD

The American Academy of Pediatrics has recently recommended that every child should have a "dental home" by their first birthday, or 6 months after the first tooth has erupted (whichever comes first.) For that reason, our practice strongly encourages you to find your one-year-old a dental home. We have, therefore, compiled this list of dentists to consider. Some, quite frankly, we know better than others. We will gladly point out those we know to be appropriate. Please feel free to mention others to us that you may know and like. Also, of course, always feel free to give us feedback---positive or negative---on any dentist (or any consultant!) we refer you too.

At the same time, we realize not all our families have dental insurance, and not everyone can comfortably afford dental care for their young child. For that reason (or if you simply choose not to see a dentist yet) our practice now offers fluoride treatments for our patients ages one to three, again as recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics. After three, DO ensure your child sees a dentist regularly!

Feel free to ask your own dentist if they would serve as your child's dental home.
